Global HR Executive

ABOUT

A Belgian national with Turkish origins, I have lived, studied and/or worked in Turkey, Belgium, US and Sweden. I now live in France and work remotely as a global Vice President of Human Resources for a US multinational in life sciences.

Further to a university degree in business management and a first job in consulting, I entered corporate life through the Human Resources function. I have first taken on specialist roles learning the technical side of HR and then assumed broader roles to then step into management and executive roles leading teams and partnering with leadership teams. I love my job as it involves working on people whose success delivers business results. In the last 10 years, my employers have been leaders in healthcare providing me more purpose.

I am married and have 3 university age children. I love walking, photography, discovering new places and spending time with family and friends. I joined PWN Nice to network and support the mentoring program. I am also a member of the Rotary club to further contribute to a broader community.

I AM LOOKING TO MENTOR

Professionals looking to enhance their leadership skills, improve their self-confidence, practice their presentation skills and better manage stakeholders cross-culturally and functionally.

Given a self-employed family and HR business partner experience, I am happy to also mentor entrepreneurs. I can mentor in English, French, Dutch and Turkish.
